

HARRY THAW'S WILL ADMITTED AS EVIDENCE

ABE RUEF ENTERS PLEA OF "NOT GUILTY"

BOSS REFUSES TO LISTEN TO HIS LAWYERS

Must Now Go to Trial Facing
Five Counts Alleging Extortion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Over the objections of his attorneys, Abraham Ruef pleaded not guilty to the five extortion indictments today, after Judge Dunne had handed down a written opinion in which he overruled the demurser. Interposed in the defendant's behalf. The proceedings gave promise of many sensations, but the court was not inclined to listen to the caustic utterances of Attorney Henry Ach, who was forced after a number of warnings to take his seat. The trouble began immediately after the opinion was filed. Ruef did not want to plead. His attorney, Samuel M. Shortridge, was the first to protest. He thought that at least twenty-four hours should be allowed before the plea was taken, but Judge Dunne did not agree with him.

Ach supported Shortridge with a technical plea in which he laid the foundation for appeal.

Ruef seemed to realize that it was useless to scheme for further delay. He arose without being told and as the title of each accusation was read he answered in a voice that could be heard in all parts of the courtroom: "Not guilty."

Assistant District Attorney Heney, who had taken part in the proceedings up to this time, suggested that the case of Ruef be set for trial at the earliest possible date. There was some question about the date of Mayor Schmitz's return. Attorney Drew declared that he had no information about the mayor's movements other than what was published in the newspapers. He said his client was away on public business, and he supposed that he would come back as soon as the business was finished.

"I suppose you want us to sit here and wait for him to come," remarked Judge Dunne.

Mr. Henry smoothed out the difficulty by consenting that all the cases should go over for one week. Ruef's case to be set for trial and Schmitz to plead.

The trial of Supervisor Fred P. Nichols, accused of accepting a bribe which was to have begun before Judge Lawlor, was also postponed until March 4th.

It is stated that the prosecution desires to dispose of the Ruef case before the Nichols trial is begun.

MURDERER ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18.—Frank, soaked matches in water and drank the liquid, but this had no effect. Holtzman, who is twenty-three years old, had recently been granted a reprieve to April 10. He had been defended lately. The jail officials are at a loss to know how he secured the knife.

Mrs. Myers is in jail at Liberty, Mo. Her case has been appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

DIES SUDDENLY AFTER GLASS OF CHAMPAGNE

Apparently in the best of health, Frank Greenville Watson, prominently connected with the Pacific Manufacturing Company, retired last night about ten o'clock at his home, 116 Alice street, but passed away suddenly about eleven o'clock. An autopsy was performed this morning by Drs. Pierce and Woosley, and in their opinion Mr. Watson died as the result of a weak heart. An inquest is to be held into decedent's sudden death.

OAKLAND WOMAN IN DEFENSE OF HUSBAND

RENO, Nev., Feb. 18.—Mrs. Charles Kucks, wife of the man who is being tried in Judge Pike's court in this city on a charge of killing Ed Farrell, a gambler, on the night of November 5, took the stand in defense of her husband, although she had stated on several occasions that she thought her husband guilty of a cold-blooded murder, and that she would never testify for him. She testified on direct examination that Farrell took most of her clothing, and in this way prevented her from leaving him. Her testimony was very strong for her husband, and will tend to justify his act.

Chief Leeper was also a very strong witness for the defense.

He stated that on the night before the shooting Kucks had appealed to him to arrest Farrell for enticing his wife from her home, and that he had stated at that time that he would kill Farrell if he did not leave his wife alone. Kucks seems to be very nervous, and is unable to sit still in his chair, while the witnesses are being examined. The guns used by Farrell and Kucks on the night of the shooting were introduced as evidence.

Charles Kucks and his wife are both Oakland people. Charles Kucks is Sr. and the defendant's sister is in Reno and attend the trial each day.

MINISTER WANTS TO READ OF THAW TRIAL

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 18.—In a sermon on morality, entitled "Women's Rights," Dr. John Cudlippe, pastor of the First M. E. Church, declared that all the evidence in the Thaw trial should be printed. "I want to see every line of the evidence printed," he said, "and I want to read it. I think the public should read it. President Roosevelt is making a great mistake when he tries to suppress any of the testimony. It should be read."

DELMAS IS IN FULL CHARGE OF DEFENSE

The Expert on Witness Stand
Tells Why He Thinks
Thaw Insane.

NEW YORK, FEB. 18.—HARRY THAW'S WILL WAS ADMITTED AS EVIDENCE LATE THIS AFTERNOON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—District Attorney Jerome permitted the reading of the provision in Thaw's will setting aside $50,000 for the prosecution of any persons who might be suspected of having caused his death by violence.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw was resumed today, and the indications now are that the trial will go ahead as rapidly as both defense and prosecution can rush it. The jury will not again be kept together until it begins the consideration of a verdict.

Doctors Evans and Wagner, two of the alienists representing the defense, were upon the witness stand today and continued to give reasons on which they based their conclusions that Thaw at the time he killed Stanford White and for several months subsequent to the homicide was of unsound mind.

Dr. Evans testified that Thaw told the doctors he had not intended to kill White, but had sought to have him brought to justice in a court of law. He accused White of seeking to destroy the virtue of every woman with whom he came in contact and declared he had poisoned and drugged many innocent young girls.

"If you had no desire or thought of killing White, why did you do it?" Dr. Evans said he put this question to Thaw in the Tombs, and the prisoner replied:

"Providence stepped in and took charge; it was an act of Providence."

Delphin M. Delmas was again in command today of the defense, and all of the six lawyers who had appeared in the case since the beginning of the trial were in their accustomed places at the defendant's counsel table.

It is reported that District Attorney Jerome will no longer oppose the introduction of Harry Thaw's will in evidence.

The defendant today seemed to be in the best of spirits.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—After an interruption of four days, the trial of Harry K. Thaw was resumed today. Juror Bolton, the death of whose wife on Thursday morning last caused the postponement of the case and the release of the jury from close confinement, was early at the criminal court building this morning, declaring he felt perfectly able to go ahead with the trial.

Mr. Jerome objected.

"That is all that is required by my memory," declared, "says he must omit essential facts."

"What can he do?" replied Justice Fitzgerald, "but give his best memory. That is all that is required by the rules of evidence."

The object was overruled and Dr. Evans began to relate the incidents of his first visit to Thaw on August 4.

"I took a letter of introduction to Mr. Thaw from Mr. Hartridge and was conducted to his cell and he gave me his hand and looked at me with a smiling and twinkling of his eyes. With a nervousness such as we seldom see, and in an excited manner he asked to have a seat beside him on his cot. He looked at me a long time and then said, 'You have different eyes from Dr. Hamilton. Your eyes look as if you were a sane man. His eyes suggested insanity.'

SHOWS NERVOUSNESS.

"I asked him how he was. I told him I had been sent by Mr. Hartridge to talk matters over. He said it was all right if I came from Hartridge, and in response to my question as to how he felt, he said: 'Oh, I'm all right.'

"The words were nervously uttered, and were piled together. He continued: 'Lew Diefeld, a lawyer, and the firm of Black, Cleott, Gruber and Bonnye are in conspiracy with Mr. Thaw to close this matter up and railroad him off to an asylum.'

"They want to have me declared insane. It is all rot. There's nothing to it. They don't want me to come to a trial where I may be vindicated and where I can tell the court and the jury all there is in this matter."

Dr. Evans said the arrival of the prisoner's wife and mother interrupted the interview.

KIESES HIS WIFE.

JAPANESE PROTEST AGAINST EXCLUSION

HONOLULU, Feb. 18.—A mass meeting of Japanese will be held tonight to protest against the exclusion of Japanese from the mainland or any form of Japanese exclusion. All classes of Japanese have joined in this movement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—O. A. Tvetmo, president of the Japanese and Korean Exclusion League, today said that the league "will refuse to endorse the enactment of an exclusion measure based upon the discretionary power of Japan to withhold passports from coolies desiring to emigrate to the mainland of the United States.

"If the treaty fails to check the flood of Japanese now coming into this country at the rate of over 1000 a week, it will prove the president's action is entirely wrong. In that event the league will continue its campaign harder than ever. Whether the treaty will hasten or retard the real exclusion movement remains to be seen. We hope to hear from Mayor Schmitz in regard to the provisions of the treaty."

"We are disinclined to believe the press reports, as the mayor and the president both decline to talk on the subject. What the league is interested in is purely a matter of exclusion. We will take no part in the separate school dispute. However, we believe an exclusion law that would place the entire matter in the hands of the Mikado and the president would be dangerously bad. It would weaken the position of the league and would also be a concession by the State to the federal government of part of its rights and would allow the president to usurp part of its legislative functions, which would be unconstitutional."

THE MILLINERS.

"I do not think that the recent agitation between Dr. Dillie and the milliners of this city is a spurious factor. That affair was not discussed at the first meeting nor have I heard it talked of among the women interested in the movement. The Young Women's Christian Association is not adequate any longer to the demand made upon it and the Girls' Mutual Benefit Club has been greatly overtaxed. We aim to provide rooms where girls can spend their noon hour and whatever leisure their work affords them. Mrs.

During a game of bocchito, an Italian pastime, yesterday morning, Mike Rudz, an Italian laborer, seventeen years of age, sustained injuries which resulted in his death last night at Fabiola hospital, where the young man had been taken for treatment. The remains are now at the local morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Rudz was watching the progress of a game of bocchito in the alleys at 1671 Seventh street, between eleven and twelve o'clock yesterday morning. He passed in front of John Miller just as the latter was about to hurl a ball down the alley. The ball struck Rudz on the side of the head, fracturing the skull. The injured youth was taken to Fabiola hospital, where he was operated on by Dr. W. W. Kergan. He succumbed to his injuries about eleven o'clock last night. Deceased resided at 1667 Seventh street.

Miller was placed under arrest by Policeman Gardiner, on a charge of manslaughter, and his case was called in police court No. 2 this morning, but went over until tomorrow for the filing of a complaint.

COUNCIL TO DISCUSS
LOCAL WATER FRONT

An executive session is to be held tonight by the city council, at which the city attorney and the special attorneys handling the water front case will render their opinion in regard to the present status of the relation of the city to the water front. Councilman Burns recently introduced a resolution requesting the State Legislature to take control of Oakland's water front. This resolution will be considered by the council tonight, and a secret session is opposed to having a star chamber meeting, and a contest is likely to develop on the floor of the council to determine whether an executive or an open session will be held.

RESPONSIBILITY IS NOT PLACED

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict in Case of Man Crushed Between Cars.

No responsibility was fixed yesterday by the coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of William Meehan, a car repairing foreman, who was crushed between two cars in the West Oakland yards of the Southern Pacific company last Thursday. The verdict was that Meehan came to his death as a result of being crushed between the two cars while at work. It is not determined whether he or his fellow workers, who had allowed the cars to be working on to crush him, was responsible for the fatality.

SUNDAY DRUNKS NUMBERED 53

The police had a lively time Saturday night and yesterday, arresting fifty-three on charges of drunkenness. The police court docks were filled to overflowing this morning, twenty-eight appearing in department one and twenty-five in department two.

LANDLADY HAS A ROOMER ARRESTED

Claiming that her roomer, C. E. Lang, created a disturbance in his room despite her protests, Mrs. Kate Analyst had him arrested yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace. Lang appeared in police court No. 1 this morning and pleaded not guilty. He demanded a jury trial and his trial was set for March 17. Mrs. Analyst resides on Eighth, near Peralta street.

THOUGHT THEY SAW FLAMES

Imagination of Pedestrians Resulted in Two False Alarms of Fire.

BERKELEY, Feb. 18.—Since early Saturday evening two false alarms of fire have been turned in by residents who thought they saw flames. J. H. Hodge, of 2018 Lincoln street, was walking along Shattuck avenue, near Dwight Way, when he suddenly appeared to him that a three-story apartment house in that vicinity was on fire. He turned in an alarm from box 45. Officer Woolley of the police department arrived on the scene before the fire company and demanded an explanation. Hodge was about to point out the scene of the impending conflagration, but the firemen had already been seen. The flames had vanished and the apartment house remained. By this time four fire engines, a hose car and truck were swinging down the street.

The officer barely saved Hodge from violence at the hands of the firemen. Last night about the midnight hour a young fellow by the name of Hader, a young fellow by the name of Hader, of 201 Center street, imagined that a fire was flaming up from a live stock bin on Adelphi street, near Moliva. He summoned to the scene the entire Berkeley fire department. Investigation showed that Hader took to be a disastrous fire consisted merely in a cloud of steam that was issuing from a Chinese laundry next door to the stable.

JEWELRY THIEF GIVEN TWO YEARS

Albert Johnson was sentenced to two years in San Quentin by Judge Laird this morning. Johnson is the youth who entered the store of Jeweler Miller on Center street in Berkeley and asked to have a watch repaired. While Miller was in the rear of the shop, Johnson took a tray of jewelry and money out of the safe while the shop was open. The contents of the tray was valued at about $100. The young fellow ran down the street but was caught before he made away with the money.

The officer who took the boy to the police that his room in the Atlantic House was entered and a black suit, grip, blankets and other clothing were stolen.

STATEMENT IS MADE BY HARRIMAN ABOUT CARS

Railroad Magnate Tells of Purchases of Lines From January, 1902, to January, 1907.

At a banquet in New York the other night E. H. Harriman intimated that he had turned author and was preparing a series of statements about the finances, management, car shortage, etc., of his railroad system for the information of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the public. One of these statements, which bears on the prevailing car shortage, was made public yesterday by the local Southern Pacific management. It sets forth in part:

From January 1, 1902, to January 1, 1907, the Harriman lines expended for new equipment over $60,000,000, or $400,000 per day, in that period. They purchased 1,400 new locomotives and 40,000 new freight cars. They now have orders in for over 14,000 other cars, or 20 per cent of their present equipment. In other words, the rolling stock of the company is to be increased one-fifth during the calendar year if the cars can be secured.

The tonnage capacity of freight cars to be delivered in 1907 is equal to the tonnage furnished during the preceding five years.

THE THREE NEW PIECES OF ROAD WILL BE BUILT

Southern Pacific Railway Proposes to Intrench itself Against Gould's Western Pacific.

Owing to the plans of Gould's Western Pacific Company to have a main line between Oakland and Sacramento by way of the Niles canyon country in Alameda county and Stockton, the Southern Pacific people are to still further intrench themselves in that territory.

With that object in view, they are to build three new pieces of road. One is to be known as the Sacramento-Southern Railroad; it is to be twenty-eight miles long and will extend southward from Sacramento to Walnut Grove. Most all of the roadbed has been graded.

Another line is to connect the San Ramon valley in Contra Costa county with the main Tracy-Oakland line at Pleasanton. The valley at present has no rail connection with Oakland and the San Joaquin valley.

The Santa Fe, which runs between Oakland and Stockton, does not appear to be doing any new construction work in that territory to intrench itself as against Gould. It incorporated over a year ago a branch line between Oakland and Marysville, but beyond asking the War Department for permission to bridge the Sacramento river it has done nothing with the project.

THE INQUEST INTO MYSTERY IS CLEARED UP

District Attorney Jerome's Office Will be Represented at Hearing.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—Last Friday a stranger, who passed as H. L. Lane, died in a room in the Western Hotel unattended by a physician. The once popular Coroner Gordey and his mystery surrounding it has only just been cleared up.

About two months ago H. L. Leroy of Holden, Johnson county, Missouri, dropped out of sight, and though his relatives made every effort to locate him they failed. Dr. E. R. Dille of Oakland is married to Leroy's cousin and the lady was exercised because of the disappearance.

An effort will be made to ascertain just what caused the rail to be torn up and the breaking of a wheel on the leading motor.

All the bodies which were held at the Bronx Park police station have been identified and removed.

BURGLARS LOOT HOUSE AND STORE

Burglars entered and ransacked the home of J. Davis, at 829 Center street, last night and obtained a large quantity of valuables, a list of which has not been furnished the police. The thefts broke in the front door and turned the furniture and household effects topsy-turvy. A number of the family were away at the time.

The deceased, E. F. Rose, at 221 San Pablo avenue was also robbed last night, the thieves gaining entrance to the place by forcing open a rear window. Considerable booty was obtained.

CHARLES BARD has reported to the police that his room in the Atlantic House was entered and a black suit, grip, blankets and other clothing were stolen.

GIVEN LIGHTEST LARCENY SENTENCE

John Huber, the son of a wealthy European family, was sentenced to one year in San Quentin by Judge Murphy this morning. Huber was charged with grand larceny, having misappropriated a diamond ring valued at $125 while he was dining in a restaurant with J. P. Merritt. Huber asked to try on the ring and while it was in his possession, he fled. It was found to the police that the ring was not to be found. Seven days later the ring was found in a local pawnshop. Huber was placed under arrest. He pleaded not guilty and the January 21 trial was adjourned to the 22nd to the Superior Court. Huber pleaded not guilty in the higher court. This morning he charged his plea and asked for sentence. He and his attorney had been here for more than a week. Judge Murphy said the young man did not look like a criminal and gave him the minimum sentence, one year.

PASTOR TALKS ABOUT THAW

Rev. H. J. Vosburg Delivers a Strong Sermon at First Baptist Church.

The first Sunday Sermon of the Lenten Season at St. Mary's.

The first of the Sunday evening course of Lenten sermons was delivered last night at St. Mary's church by Father James Grant, D. D., who took for his subject: "Religion Natural for Man." In part, the reverend speaker said:

"Fifth avenue and the Bowery are close akin to one another. The chief difference is one of clothes, not of character. Harry Thaw could never give a satisfactory account of his existence. He did not know why he was here. He and Stanford White have reaped what they have sown: the law of retribution is inexorable, inevitable." So said the Rev. H. J. Vosburgh last night in a sermon on the Thaw case, delivered at the First Baptist Church.

After a general discussion of the moral decadence shown by the Thaw case to exist in certain high places in American society, these four lessons were emphasized by the minister: The folly of material indulgence toward children; the moral dangers attending wealth; the folly of an aimless life; and the inevitability of the moral law.

"We have been wont to regard the slums as the home of vice. Now we see that moral slums may be found in high life as well as in low.

"A few of the lessons suggested by this tragedy might be noted. First we are taught the folly of parental indulgence. The elder Thaws were deeply pious people, the mother could not say no to her son. The world can sympathize with her stated grief, but cannot sympathize with her unwise good nature in furnishing her morally feeble son with the means of dissipation by which he surrounded himself with a small army of prostitutes and was enabled to pursue the course that ended in his moral ruin and his public disgrace.

"Second, we learn the danger that great wealth brings that comes to one without effort. Frequently the men who earn a fortune have a fine moral temper, but money that comes without effort, presents temptations that most people are unable to withstand.

"Third, we see the folly of leading an aimless life. Harry Thaw did not know why he was here. It is better to have a low purpose in life than none at all.

"Finally we learn the inevitability of moral law. The great avenger may be slow, but the law of life is omnipotent.

"Man is by nature reverential.

"Man is by nature reverential. He pays honor to whom honor is due. He honors his parents, the aged, the great, his superiors, civic and otherwise. On the same principle, therefore, he owes honor to God, who is the first cause and the great superior. The honor due to God is called 'adoration' because of such a nature as to be due to no other.

"We are created to love God. We are made for happiness and are made for it. Every act of our life is prompted by the desire for it. Happiness is contentedness and we are content when our faculties, intelligence and will are at peace in the possession and enjoyment of cognate perfections.

"But God is the bountiful giver of perfection. We cannot but know it. Therefore, too, he is the source of all our happiness. Indeed, he is the very source of all the perfections we enjoy.

We are bound to him, therefore, by ties of gratitude and must love him under pain of de-naturalizing ourselves or of refusing obedience to the spontaneous promptings of our nature.

"We are created to serve God. He is the Creator, the Lord of all things, and the Sovereign Master. He not only owns all things and us, but he has a purpose in the creation of them and us. It could not be otherwise, for otherwise agents are purposeless in their acts. Therefore, everything in the world is for a purpose, and God's will is the law which determined the right use of things. We use things, but our right reason tells us to use them according to God's will. That, too, does our conscience testify. It approves or disapproves of all we do.

Whence that innate knowledge of right and wrong? Why that judgment and the judge? We know it is God's judgment recorded in our intelligence and we feel that we are responsible to him and that we will be rewarded or punished hereafter according to our deeds.

"But to know God and love him and serve him is religion."

REV. GRANT ON RELIGION

The first Sunday Sermon of the Lenten Season at St. Mary's.

The first of the Sunday evening course of Lenten sermons was delivered last night at St. Mary's church by Father James Grant, D. D., who took for his subject: "Religion Natural for Man." In part, the reverend speaker said:

"The sin of the twentieth century is that of indifference to God. It pretends that man owes no duty to the Creator and that religion, though good and useful, is unnecessary. It asserts that religion is purely human origin and that the only true religion is that of the people feel of association and leadership in acts they wish to perform. But nature does not demand it, and God has never imposed it. Therefore let no man be impeached who refuses communion with a denomination nor let any be branded who forsakes a fold into which they happened to be born.

RELIGION NATURAL.

"I wish to set forth arguments to prove that religion is natural to man: that it comes from the very nature of things just as it is natural for a seed to respond to the moisture and warmth of springtime and for songbirds to greet the rising sun with their carolling. There is no question in the evening of revelation more of the teaching of the church: only of what nature says through the facilities which God has given to us. Nature says just what the catechism does, viz.: That man is created to know and love and serve God. We are created to know God.

"Second, we learn the danger that great wealth brings that comes to one without effort. Frequently the men who earn a fortune have a fine moral temper, but money that comes without effort, presents temptations that most people are unable to withstand.

"Third, we see the folly of leading an aimless life. Harry Thaw did not know why he was here. It is better to have a low purpose in life than none at all.

"Finally we learn the inevitability of moral law. The great avenger may be slow, but the law of life is omnipotent.

"Man is by nature reverential.

SENATOR SAYS CLOTHING DOESN'T BELONG TO HIM

Charles E. Greenwell of Santa Barbara Makes Explanation in Regard to Young Divorce Case.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—Senator Charles E. Greenwell of Santa Barbara returned to Sacramento last night and interjected an entirely new phase into the charges made against him by C. E. Young, the Bakersfield oil man, who is exhibiting articles of clothing as evidence of the alleged intimacy between the lawmaker and Mrs. Young, and on which he is basing his suit for divorce.

"The clothing which Young says he has doesn't belong to me at all," said Greenwell. "It belongs to some other man. The only property in Young's possession which I claim title to is an orange and blue hat. These he got from a rack in the hall. The man who owned the clothing and shoes will probably claim them when the time comes. It will be very easy to prove that they don't fit me and are not my property. I can attribute the assault made on my reputation by Young to nothing but the action of a man who is either insane from jealousy or who is not responsible for what he does. I have been thinking about proceeding against him through the district attorney of this county for his slanders and the theft of his clothing, but have decided to defer action for the present. There is not the slightest evidence for the charges made against Mrs. Young. She is, as every one who is acquainted with her intimately can testify, a woman of irreproachable character and deportment. Nothing that I might bear witness to could help to strengthen the confidence of her friends in this respect."

Californian Asserts That the New York Lawyers for Defense Hide Evidence From Him in Order to Make Him Look Like a Fool in the Courtroom.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The Thaw trial was resumed today as if there were no jealous controversy raging among counsel for the defense.

The case of the murderer, Mr. Delmas, was treated equally by his associates, who, jealous of the prominent part he had taken in the Thaw defense, concluded to ignore him as far as possible. He was not informed of the nature of certain evidence to be given by some of the very witnesses he was going to cross-examine, and it was apparent to him that his associates were trying to handicap him. It was the following statement made by Delmas to newspaper men that brought the trouble to a climax:

"For the first time my associates have done everything in their power to discredit me and make me appear ridiculous in the courtroom," Delmas said. "At the close of the first day of the trial I demanded that all the counsel meet in my office. When they had come together I told them plainly the conduct of the case meant nothing less than the murder of their client. I said I would be no party to it and unless they stopped where they were and gave me entire charge of the case from that point my resignation was in their hands."

DELMAS PRESENTS ULTIMATUM. "They agreed to allow me to take sole charge of the case without protest and from that time until the present I have been nominally senior counsel of the defense. As a matter of fact I have been no such thing. Beginning with the conclusion of my direct examination of Mrs. Thaw they began their attempts to confuse me and make me appear incompetent to handle the case. Evidence I had never seen or heard of was sprung on me in the courtroom at a moment's notice.

"Witnesses I knew nothing of were called and I was left to question them without having the slightest idea as to what their testimony was.

"I stood this line of behavior on my associates' part until I could endure it no longer. Then I called a second conference in my office. When they had assembled again I presented my ultimatum. I told them that either they were to produce before me every particle of evidence in their possession and give me the benefit of their knowledge on every point connected with the case or I would retire. They consented to this, but did not let their word."

When Hartridge was made acquainted with Delmas' statement he expressed great astonishment and sent immediate for Gleason and Peabody, both of whom were in different parts of the city attending to important matters connected with the trial. After they had learned the facts it was demanded a retraction of his statements and his withdrawal from the case.

HARTRIDGE MAKES REPLY.

Hartridge said to the newspaper:

"McPike, who was A. H. Hummel's representative in California, a fact I have learned only recently, came here soon after the shooting last summer and asked me to obtain the services of Delmas. I made no decision at that time, and then Delmas came across my courtroom and personally asked that I retain him in the case. Again, I made no positive arrangement, and he returned to California with no assurance that he was to be retained.

"But he was afterward employed by me and made 'of counsel.' McPike never was retained in any capacity, and has no more to do with the defense than any other spectator. To date his chief activity has been confined to filling a chair at the counsel table and doing errands for Delmas."

ARMED TRUCE.

The serious difference among the lawyers who are engaged in the defense of Harry Thaw was patched up last evening and it is probable that for the remainder of the trial, there will be at least an armed truce among them. For a time it looked as if the trouble had reached a stage where Delmas, who has conducted the defense, would withdraw from the case but it was agreed that he will go on. On the intercession of Mrs. William Thaw, the defendant's aged mother, is said to be responsible for the patching up of the quarrel.

An open rupture among the lawyers would be a very serious matter for Thaw and a realization of this fact doubtless had much to do with the settlement of the difficulty.

There is little fear among the attorneys on either side of the now famous case that Juror Joseph E. Bolton will stage a miss-trial. Both sides are confident that he will be willing to go on with the case when court convenes this morning, in spite of the grief occasioned by the death of his wife, whose funeral occurred Saturday. A miss-trial would be a serious matter, particularly for the defense, as beside the enormous amount of money already expended by both the defense and the prosecution.

DEFENSE EXPOSED.

The case of the defense has been well exposed and if the whole matter is to be gone over again the prosecution would have the advantage of knowing exactly to what the principal will testify. Again it would probably take many weeks to secure another jury, because of the enormous interest manifested in the case by the public, and the great detail in which it has been reported by the newspapers.

The attorney, Dr. Daniel Evans, Dr. Charles G. Wagner resumed the stand today and repeated the conversations they had with Thaw in the Tombs during the period when they believed he was of unsound mind. It is believed by the attorneys for Thaw that these conversations will show without question that Thaw's mind was not in a normal state, not only at the time of the killing but for many weeks afterward.

NOT COMPLETED.

The problem of the defense will, by no means, be finished with the proof that Thaw was insane, when he fired the shot that killed White. Then will come the task of proving that he is sane.

That the trouble was only what the alienists describe as "brain storm" and that notwithstanding his violence on the object of his hatred his brain was not broken, his brain has recovered its ordinary calm. In other words, the defense must prove Thaw insane and then again say, for he is anxious to escape the asylum for the criminally insane, at Mattewan, as he is to escape the death chamber at Sing Sing.

It is hardly probable that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will go on the stand again today. Dr. Evans and Dr. Wagner will probably take up most of the time, even if Dr. Jerome poses his cross examination, as he probably will do. In addition to this the defense will again make an attempt which will probably be successful, to introduce the will which has caused so much argument. If, however, there is time Mrs. Thaw will continue her story and the defense will again try to secure the court's permission for her to tell the jury what Thaw told her of the other young girls, who he believed had suffered at White's hands.

THE PASTORS.

The pastors of the Oakland churches have been requested to add in this worthy movement and have agreed to set aside the second Sunday in March as the day on which they will present the plan to their congregations, and where it is agreeable to receive collections of money to be applied to the purchase of the new home in the center of town.

FORMATION OF A KYMRIC CLUB

Organization Will Foster Welsh Literature and Music and Entertain Welsh Visitors.

The Kymric Club is a social organization recently formed by some of the leading Welshmen in Oakland and San Francisco. Its purpose is to cultivate sociability, to foster Welsh literature and music and to serve as a medium whereby distinguished Welsh visitors to California may be fittingly entertained and hospitably treated during their sojourn here. The membership has been restricted to thirty, and the dues are limited to the pro rata assessment of the banquets given under its auspices. These features make it a very select organization. Professor Thomas Price, of San Francisco, has been elected as its first president, and H. T. Roberts, of the Judson Manufacturing Company, whose works are located at Emeryville, was chosen as its first secretary and treasurer. A sister society, known as the Kymric Society of Chicago, has been organized in that city to similar end and to admit persons with which the Kymric Club will affiliate. The first annual banquet of the Kymric Club will take place on February 28 (St. David's Eve), at Jack's Rotisserie, 1025 Golden Gate avenue, just west of Jefferson Square, San Francisco. Invitations for which are now out. Superior Judge Hosmer, who is of Welsh extraction, and District Attorney Langdon are among the invited guests of the club.

SECOND PEMBROKE TRIAL MARCH 5

The second burglary trial of Percy Pembroke was set for March 5 by Judge Murphy this morning. Pembroke is accused of assisting James Coughurst in holding up Edward Stanley, an East Oaklander, October 20, at the California Club, now serving a term of seven years in Folsom for the offense. A jury failed to agree on a verdict Friday night after hearing the evidence for about a week.

FIRS MEETING.

The first meeting in connection with the work will be held a few days ago at the home of Mrs. J. B. Richardson, president of the Young Women's Christian Association. Among the influential club women present were Mrs. Charles C. Capwell, representing Mrs. John Yule, acting president of the Home Club; Mrs. Cora Jones, president of the Oakland Club; Mrs. W. C. Storck, president of the Exchange Club; Miss Elizabeth Evans, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, formerly secretary of the American Committee of the same organization, and Miss Florence Simms, organizer for the State of the association.

It is planned to establish an administration building on the site of the Playter estate, at Fourteenth and Castro streets, where will be conducted a gymnasium, where will be conducted a library and reading room, and a restaurant to be managed in connection with the present Young Women's Christian Association home at 1424 Franklin street.

Every woman working for the cause is entitled to a place in the movement, and is sure to be powerful and far-reaching in its effect.

Loss of Appetite

It is common when the blood needs purifying and enriching, for then the blood fails to give the digestive organs the stimulus necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is pre-eminently the medicine to take. It makes the blood pure and rich, and strengthens all the digestive organs.

Mr. John Yule, president of Iabola Hospital, though not able to be present at the meeting, expressed himself cordially in regard to the movement, and not only to enlarge the work of the Young Women's Christian Association, but because of her great interest in the welfare

GIRL RAFFLES HERSELF TO OBTAIN A HUGE SUM

Wishes to Perfect Musical Education--Worked as Stenographer and Studied Meantime.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—An attractive young woman, valise in hand, has descended upon Wall street and the lambs and bears and other live stock stopped work to listen to her.

The young woman, in addition to the valise, possesses blond hair, blue eyes, a cupid's bow mouth and other marks which merit attention.

Furthermore, she carries into Wall street a scheme which makes even the enterprising ones of the stock exchange sit up and take notice.

The young woman is Miss Mirian Edwina, and she is raffling herself for money to obtain a musical education. She has 350 chances and they range in price from $1 to $350.

Miss Edwina has a high soprano voice and grand opera is her aim. She says she has heard of all kinds of raffling schemes for making money and she certainly wants to accumulate enough to take her to Italy.

Miss Edwina is beautiful. She is only 19. She is svelte and graceful but the charm, which she cherishes most is her voice. Here is her own story of how she came to raffle herself in the hope of raising money for her musical education:

"I have been trying to earn enough money to complete my musical education, but it seems that it is impossible. My father, who was once a United States consul in Cuba, died three years ago, and I have had to support myself. I tried stenography, and that is how I earned money to study music for awhile. I have had voice lessons here in New York four years, but I want two years abroad. Of course, that is necessary for any one who has grand opera aspirations.

"It seems a shame for me to let my voice go for nothing," she said, "when there are so many rich men with more money than they can use. And then lots of people think I am attractive. So, as I have nothing else to raffle, the idea suddenly occurred to me that I could raffle myself."

The enterprising young woman descended upon Wall street with a small valise, in which she carries her chances. Each ticket is numbered and put in a sealed envelope. When the man draws the envelope, he, of course, has no idea of the price he must pay for it. The number on the ticket represents the price he must pay.

Already Miss Edwina has sold ten shares or chances, the largest number being drawn so far being $10, for which a well-known and wealthy New Yorker paid $210.

If Miss Edwina sells all her chances she will have the tidy little sum of $61,425, which ought to help some toward a musical education.

"The raffle will take place in some hall, and I intend giving a concert first and letting people hear me sing."

HUNTING JOBS, WOMEN GIVE SENATORS CANDY

COSTLY FRENCH WEDDINGS REGULATED BY ETIQUETTE

Marriages Conducted Along Well-Defined Ceremonial Lines, but Are Less Pompous.

The up-to-date French marriage is a much less pompous affair than the weddings of the last century. It is conducted, however, along well-defined ceremonial lines, from which nobody who pretends to be in the swim dreams of departing.

The obligations of the bridegroom begin the very day of his proposal is accepted. He pays his first tribute to his betrothed in the corbeille de fiancailles, or engagement bouquet. This is a great basket of pure white blossoms—lilles of the valley, azaleas, lilac, white roses and orchids are in order. The basket in which they are grouped is trimmed with lace. Some enthusiastic wavers spend as much as $500 on this first gift, but, according to a leading Parisian florist, $100 is nearer the average.

The floral obligations, however, are continuous. The same florist declares that it is obligatory on the engaged man to send a sheaf of lilles to his sweetheart at least every second day. She finds at her place the first time she dines with his parents a corsage bouquet, and on the occasion of the signing of the marriage contract the bridegroom provides one of white and pink flowers. On the day of the marriage proper, that is, the religious ceremony, he sends a basket of orange flowers garlanded with tulle. The bride provides the women who in accordance with French custom at events which combine a religious and social character, take up the collection with purses decorated with flowers to match her corsage bouquet.

The great show event is the signing of the contract. It takes place in the evening, and the invitations cover the entire acquaintance of the family. The presents are displayed on this occasion.

On this evening, too, the wedding cake, which French society has adopted from England, is cut. The betrothed couple head the procession to the supper room. Every one drinks their health in a glass of champagne. The bride just sticks a knife into the cake, which is gilt over its frosting, and the servants do the actual cutting.

Then comes the wedding, the civil and church ceremonies, generally the next day. The up-to-date wedding ring is no longer a plain band. It is twisted by a skillful artist into a knot which symbolizes the marriage tie.

The costume of both bride and bridegroom depends upon the character of the ceremony. In the spring time country marriages are very popular. The family and a few intimate friends flock to the chateau of the bride's parents, and the ceremony is performed by the village cure in the little church nearby.

For this sort of wedding the height of style is studied negligee. The bride's gown is simple, and falls only to the top of her shoes. The groom wears a cutaway, or even a sack coat, and a straw hat.

At such events as the couple emerge from the church, firecrackers are set off and guns are fired.

DON'T MARRY IN OWN SET, DOCTOR DECLARED

Peer Should Wed Actress and Woman of Genius Should Mate With Commonplace.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Mesalliances will not be beneficial to future generations, according to a sound sociological principle by Dr. Angelo Rapoport in a lecture in London to the New Era Sociological Society. His argument was that men should seek wives outside their own social sphere if they wanted to have healthy and brainy children.

"The marriage of mental consanguinity," he said, "is dangerous to society as one of physical consanguinity. The man who lives in Park Lane and has the 'Park Lane mind' should not marry the woman who resides in the same neighborhood. Men and women who live in the same atmosphere imbibe the same theories and become fixed mentally, so that they might have been cast in the same mould. Their marriage may be a happy one, but it is dangerous to society as one of physical consanguinity. The man who lives in Park Lane and has the 'Park Lane mind' should not marry the woman who resides in the same neighborhood. Men and women who live in the same atmosphere imbibe the same theories and become fixed mentally, so that they might have been cast in the same mould. Their marriage may be a happy one, but it

"Marriage," continued Dr. Rapoport, "should not be a question of love or money, but he undertaken purely in the interest of the race. The aim of marriage is the rearing of the superman."

"Men and women of genius should never marry each other. Talent may be handed down to the children, but in the case of genius, nature has reached her pinnacle, and immediately descends."

"The intellectual, ugly man should marry the mediocre woman with a pretty face. The peer should marry the actress."

TO MAKE A RUG.

For a rug collect about twenty-five pounds of flannel rags and dye them the desired shades, and tear into strips about an inch wide. These must be neatly sewed together, overlapping about half an inch, so that the joining is strong.

Now procure a length of clothesline rope and commence to crochet the flannel strips over the rope.

This is begun in the center, like any crochet wheel for a chair back.

A large wooden crochet hook may be obtained from a needlework shop. The stitch is double crochet, is used to cover up the rope with the crocheted flannel.

As you go along the crochet is inserted into the previous row, so that the circle grows with every pull of the needle.

In using two colors the paler shade should be used until the circle is about a foot across. Then use the darker shade until you have gone five times around the ring.

Return again to the paler color, repeating the alternate colors until the flannel is all used up or the rug is the desired size, leaving the darker shade at the edge of the ring.

These are very economical to make,

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The empire modes of today are much prettier in their modified form than were their originals.

It is marvelous how linen collars have taken hold of feminine affections. There is no abatement in the demand for them, although the designs are steadily becoming more ornate.

Velvet coats come in the most exquisite pastel shades. One blue emerald coat was lined with white satin and had cuffs of renassance lace, finished with ruffles of Irish lace.

The short bolero with Japanese floral revers is the latest fancy. The little garment is worn over a chemise of mousseline de sole of the same hue and can be taken off at will.

Wearing black velvet ribbon around the neck with ball gowns is immensely fashionable at the present moment. The velvet is as wide as can be comfortably worn, and is fastened at the back with jeweled bar. In front is a diamond pin or buckle, diamond slides at the side or fine specimens of the Cartier jewelry may be worn over the velvet.

Lace is more fashionable than ever, and the soft lace ties, bows and jabots are immensely becoming and extremely popular. A band of valenciennes insertion, with a narrow edge to match makes a charming tie, the ends finished with a wide ruffle of the same lace. Valenciennes and the fine laces are the most used for this fashion. Rare old pieces of lace are making their appearance.

Embroidered linen collars, the high turned down style, are extremely smart, and are worn with all kinds of waists. They are fastened in front, and the favorite finish is the tulip bow or rosette, fastened with a bar pin of diamonds or pearls. One style has buttonholes through which are put link cuff buttons, or a velvet ribbon that is tied in a stiff bow. A hemstitched edge, a narrow line of hand-embroidery, or some small design, in embroidery just at the corner, is the current fashion.

There are several new designs in veils that are attractive. The chenille dotted—small rather than large dots—in the French veiling is extremely fashionable and the clear mesh makes it generally becoming. A novelty in heavier veiling is the yard and an eighth square of chiffon cloth, with large round velvet dots a shade darker in color. There is a wide hem finished with hemstitching. The smartest colors are gray and pale tan, and the veil is put on over the entire hat, with folds drawn back, and fastened at the back of the head with one of the new fancy veil pins that are so popular.

Buckles of all sorts and sizes are to be a marked feature of the coming season. These will come from abroad and are to be in jet, gunmetal, oxidized and other metals and materials. In buttons, fancy painted porcelains, steel-studded and other expensive and handsome styles are shown, with still more beautiful ones to follow. Linedsome buttons are a great addition to any costume, and there is hardly any limit set to their price, especially when women have real jewels set in buttons for wear with certain costumes. In this latter case the buttons are removable, and may be taken off when the garment is not worn, and also worn on more than one costume or garment.

For a young girl's dance frock no one is prettier than a round length skirt with baby bodice and a sash. Some of the feathers on extreme hats not only fall over the brim, but extend to the shoulder or half way down the back, they are so long.

Marcasite jewelry represents a fancy of the moment, the soft luminosity of the stones in their fascinating gamut of shades rendering them particularly suited to fancy jewelry, while pink quartz, lapis lazuli, the old-fashioned chrysoprase, and jade are also introduced into the handles of the long tortoise-shell lorgnettes, without which no Parisienne considers her costume complete.

These are very quickly done, and are among the most durable of any of the home-made rugs, as the rope makes such a hard, strong surface before it is covered with the flannel.

The young man whose picture appears on the right is George Christich, the son of the late King Milan of Servia, and on the left is shown his mother, Artemisia Johamud. The young man, who may become a pretender to the Servian throne, was recently the victim of an attempt at assassination, and it is thought that King Peter of Servia is back of the attempt.

REAL WOMAN HAS NO SELF, IS CONCLUSION

In the Case of Chinaman He Counts Only the Boys of His Family, Says an Authority.

The statement that woman has no self may seem too strong, but all analysis of woman leads to that conclusion. And even if this conclusion, briefly made, may seem hard and intolerant, paradox and exaggerated, it is not I who have first pronounced it, says Professor Otto Weltinger.

From the oldest times the Chinese have denied that woman possesses a soul. If you ask a Chinaman how many children he has, he counts only the boys, and if he has only daughters, he declares that he is childless. From the same reason, probably, Mohammedan barred women from Paradise and thereby caused the contemptible treatment of women in Mohammedan countries.

Among the philosophers Aristotle must be named first, who also declared woman to possess no soul.

In the beginning of the Christian era Tertullian and Origen thought very little of woman, while Augustine differs from them, undoubtedly because of his great love of his mother.

During the last decades Henrik Ibsen (in Anitra, Rita and Irene), and August Strindberg have shown their low opinion of woman.

But the idea of woman being without a soul has become more widespread through Foucault's wonderful fairy tales taken from Poracelus, whom he studied with great interest, and through E. T. A. Hoffmann, Giraschne and Albert Lortzing, who set it to music. Undine, the soulless Undine, is woman's platonic idea.

In spite of all that may be said against it the majority of us really admit the truth of my statement. How often do we not say: "Woman lacks character," which, after all, means the same thing? Personality and individuality, soul, will or character are one and the same quality which in human beings is to be found only in men, not in woman.

But as the human soul is the microcosm, and as talented men are such who live fully through their soul, that is to say, in whom the whole world is living—it follows that woman cannot possess genius. Man possesses everything in himself, and, as Pico de Mirandola says, he only needs to strengthen this or that quality in himself.

He may reach the highest height or sink to the lowest depth. He may become an animal, a plant; he may also become woman, and therefore, we often see effeminate men.

But woman can never become man.

ELOPERS TAKE PASTOR ALONG; WED ON TRAIN

A Pretty Richmond, Virginia, Girl, Is Married to Her Lover on a Whirling Express.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 18.—Miss Mattie McGhee, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McGhee, was married recently to Colin R. Dickerson by an accommodating minister on a railroad train, while it was running at full speed, several of the passengers acting as witnesses.

The young couple had eloped from Beaver Dam, where the girl was passing the holidays. They had been balked at several points by vigilant parents.

Fearing that her parents would be awaiting the arrival of the train in Richmond, they took a minister along with them. Their calculation later turned out to be a fact.

The pair was readily forgiven by the parents of the bride on arrival here.

NEWS FROM BERKELEY AND CITY OF ALAMEDA

DENIES STORY OF PATRONAGE

Bell Tells Senate He Never Offered Walter Parker $25 a Day.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—Senator Bell of Pasadena arose to a question of personal privilege immediately after the senate convened today, and denounced as absolutely untrue the story published in a Los Angeles evening paper that he had offered Walter Parker $20 or $25 a day patronage if Parker would let Bell in the Republican caucus, and that Parker had rejected the senator's proposition in disgust.

Senator Bell said that he had no patronage to offer, that he had refused to accept patronage and referred to Senators McArthur and Brougham to bear him out.

"I was not aware," said Bell, "that Mrs. Parker controlled the Republican caucus in the Senate and I have a mental picture of Mr. Parker in his righteous indignation turning down anyone in the matter of patronage and bribery."

Senator Bell also indignantly denied that he had approached any of the Republicans in the Senate and challenged any senator to rise and say that he had been asked for support by Bell.

GREENWELL IN SEAT.

Senator Greenwell of Santa Barbara, who has been absent for some time, and who was mentioned as the central figure in a sensational escapade in Bakersfield last week, was in his seat in the Senate this morning. Immediately after Senator Bell finished speaking Senator Greenwell arose to a question of personal privilege and in a brief statement denounced as absolutely false all that had been published about him in connection with the Bakersfield story.

"When the time comes I will prove to my friends that I am perfectly innocent," said the senator. His statement was greeted with prolonged applause.

Senator Caminetti today introduced an anti-Japanese bill in the Senate, which not only embodies the provisions of Senator Keane's measure giving school authorities power to segregate Japanese children, but goes further and declares that where separate schools have been, or will be, established heretofore, they shall not be discontinued until a matter of such discontinuance has first been submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of any district or city.

SHARP FIGHT.

After a sharp fight led by Senators Bolley and Caminetti the Senate to-day passed the bill authorizing the sale of the Los Angeles State Normal School and site. Senator Bolley held that the property should be re-est. value while Bolley intimated that it was a specimen scheme on the part of a pool and ridiculed the statement of the Senator that the property was not worth $300,000, which it is said will be realized by the sale.

The administration bill creating a State Department of Engineering and consolidating the work of several departments and commissions, passed in the Senate without debate.

SAN FRANCISCO STOCKS AND BONDS

SAN JOSE, Feb. 18.—Chief of Police T. W. Carroll was before Judge Davison this morning to answer to charges of resisting an officer and rescuing a prisoner charged with committing a felony. The preliminary examination drew a large crowd to the City Hall, but there were no sensations during the morning session of court. It had been rumored that Chief Carroll's attorneys would move for a change of venue, alleging that Judge Davison, who does not owe allegiance to the Hayes faction, is prejudiced against the accused and has shown prejudice in the exciting contest arising out of the charges of election frauds, but Ed M. Rea, Carroll's legal adviser, announced positively this morning that he would not seek to secure a change of venue.

"Judge Davison has treated every case in which I have appeared in his court in an impartial manner," said Attorney Rea, "and I am satisfied that he will do the same in the present instance."

EACH SENATOR GETS FORTY TELEGRAMS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—More than four thousand telegrams were received by members of the legislature today urging the passage of Assemblyman Transier's "Conditional Sale" measure.

In the assembly every member received forty messages and the yellow dispatches covered the desks and littered the floor. The running back and forth of pages and messengers made such a confusion that Grove L. Johnson arose and declared the telegrams a nuisance. Speaker Beardslee ordered the delivery of the telegrams stopped.

HOUSE BACKS SENATE BY PASSING IMMIGRATION BILL

Conference Report Giving President Right to Bar Japanese Is Agreed to After Discussion.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The conference report upon the immigration bill was agreed to today by the House, ayes 197 nayes 101.

After the reading of the report, Representative Burnett of Alabama, made points of order against the first provision, which undertakes to regulate the incoming of Japanese coolies by giving the President authority to refuse to recognize their passports. As to the first proposition, Mr. Burnett insisted that the authority conferred by Section 12 of the President put in his hands a "big stick" which he could wield over a State. He declared that it gave the President a power which was never contemplated by the constitution, nor by the enabling act of any sovereign State. Mr. Burnett so raised a point of order against the section relating to the air space in vessels bringing immigrants to the United States.

It was Mr. Burnett's contention that the air space provision belongs in a bill relating to navigation and had no part in a bill regarding the immigration of aliens into the United States. Mr. Bennett of New York, contended that the points of order made against the two provisions could not be, because the provisions had been considered by the House in other bills and had really been considered in connection with the immigration bill.

ALIEN ADMISSION.

Mr. Williams of Mississippi, said that the provision relating to alien admission, as affecting the question of mixed schools in California had been injected in the bill to avoid possible foreign complications, and that it was in fact a matter which neither House had a right to discuss.

Personally, he said, he was with California in the stand taken, and he would stand by the people of California as to the manner in which their schools should be conducted.

Speaker Cannon advised Mr. Williams that in discussing points of order politics should not be considered.

OIL HEATER COSTS HOME

OVERTURNS AND RESIDENCE OF W. ELLSWORTH IS BURNED TO THE GROUND.

By the turning over of a small oil heater about 10 o'clock this morning, in the home of N. Ellsworth at 912 Forty-fourth street, the structure was set on fire and was destroyed before the fire department arrived. The loss is estimated at about $2500. During the course of the fire the home of Mrs. C. Belsen, at 910 Forty-fourth street, caught fire and was slightly damaged.

The little daughter of Mr. Ellsworth was playing about the house when she overthrew the oil stove, she escaped being burned. The furniture, however, caught fire and the flames quickly spread through the house. Ellsworth had $700 insurance on the furniture. The house was owned by J. Fisher and was valued at about $1800.

MELVIN AT THAW TRIAL

Alameda County Jurist in the New York Court.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Judge Henry A. Melvin, of the Superior Court of California, was an interested spectator at the trial today. Judge Melvin is also grand exalted ruler of the Order of Elks, and a personal friend of Mr. Delmas.

Immediately after recess Dr. Evans was again called to the stand, temporarily replacing Dr. Wagner.

The witness was shown Thaw's will and examined it in silence for some time.

"Doctor, are the names mentioned in this codicil the same as those you have testified Mr. Thaw gave you as victims of Stanford White's practices?"

Mr. Jerome objected on the ground that it was an attempt to get into evidence the contents of a paper for the introduction of which there had been no foundation laid.

"I object to this objectional scandalous paper," began Mr. Jerome, but was interrupted by Mr. Delmas, who objected and took exception to the statement and asked that it be noted that the exception was due to the misconduct of the district attorney.

"I am not talking to the jury," said Mr. Jerome. "I am talking to the court. We have twelve intelligent men here and they are not going to decide the case upon the talk of counsel."

"I object," repeated Mr. Delmas, "to the learned district attorney referring to this codicil or this will as containing scandal."

"I think they are true or not, his will contains statements of scandal," again asserted Mr. Jerome.

"I think we had better get back to the question," suggested Justice Fitzgerald in a conciliatory tone.

"I am laying a foundation for the ultimate purpose of offering this will in evidence," said Mr. Delmas. "My object now is to identify these names without making them public. If the district attorney insists, I will have Dr. Evans state the names, but it is not my disposition to do so."

"I see it's out of all this," said Mr. Jerome, in a voice which displayed irritability. "Let them ask this witness if he was cross-examined, whether he made the will and then put the will in. The court shall hold it to be cumulative evidence and therefore admissible."

"I intend following that course," recommended Mr. Delmas.

Dr. Evans was excused and Dr. Hammond, another of the defendant's attorneys, was called. Before Hammond was sworn, however, Mr. Delmas changed his mind and had Dr. Evans once more recalled.

Dr. Evans was shown the will and asked if he had ever seen it before. He said he had not.

Mr. Delmas asked Mr. Jerome to concede that the copy made in the district attorney's office was correct.

"I don't concede everything," said Mr. Jerome.

"It is your privilege not to concede anything, not even common courtesy," was Mr. Delmas' reply.

"I am exercising my privilege," snapped Mr. Jerome.

Dr. Evans proceeded to read the will, which he had finished reading.

"Can you state whether Mr. Thaw at the time of executing the will and the codicil was of sound or unsound mind, taking all you know of the case into consideration?"

Dr. Evans answered:

"It is my opinion that he was not of sound mind."

Mr. Jerome began cross-examining the witness and had Dr. Evans repeat the latter statement.

"What form is it known as?" snapped Mr. Jerome.

"It would be developmental insanity."

"What is developmental insanity?"

"They were not altogether systematized."

"In what respect were the delusions not systematized?"

"He shifted from one delusional idea to another."

What Is a Direct Primary?

The San Francisco Call seems to be stumbling over its feet in its advocacy of a direct primary. If we are to have a direct primary, the more direct it is the better. To substitute indirection for direction to prevent some candidate to whom we are opposed making a direct appeal to the people is to make the whole scheme of selecting candidates by direct primary vote the sport of personal predilections and dislikes.

One of the chief objections to a direct primary is that it tends to disintegrate parties, and to destroy party organization to promote certain defined issues and array the prevailing public sentiment in a cohesive force to carry out the intentions of the electorate. Another is that, in effect, it provides for the holding of two elections to accomplish the results that one should achieve. By striking down party organizations and substituting a go-as-you-please race between individuals for the favor of the electorate, the general election is practically made a vote of ratification.

But if there is to be a primary merely to test the party sentiment, to ascertain who the masses of party desire for their candidates, a party test must be provided for in the law and ample field of operation left open for the activities of conventions and campaign committees. Party organization cannot be rendered impotent on the one hand and party loyalty be appealed to on the other.

It is the general equation that is lost sight of in the direct primary discussion. A party stands for something save its nominees and the letter of the platforms its conventions enunciate. It represents a general line of public policies and congeries of ideas and aspirations as well as broad economic principles—that is, in the mass. Individual members of a party—in fact, the majority of them—differ with the mass of the party in some particular on some question of public policy or the method of advancing certain objects admitted to be desirable. The demand for a direct primary, if the existence and usefulness of parties are to be recognized, is in reality a more direct method of getting an expression from the voters in regard to candidates and what they are popularly supposed to represent. This presupposes a primary that will afford a better opportunity to appeal to party sentiment within the party ranks, not an appeal to men of all parties or no party as to who the nominees and what the policies of a particular party shall be.

But no primary law has yet been framed or even suggested that enables an appeal to be made solely to party sentiment. The workings of the present law, which is cumbersome and ineffective in other particulars, illustrates this truth. In overwhelmingly Republican counties like Alameda the vast majority of Democratic voters, acting on the theory that the Republican nominees will be elected anyhow, express their preferences as to whom the Republicans shall elect as convention delegates and nominate as candidates. Only an insignificant minority vote the party ballot at primary elections, hence Democratic sentiment influences Republican party action while the Democratic party organization is reduced to impotency and penance. We see all the voters abandoning minority parties to create factions within the dominant political organization.

The Call has been trying to extend this unmistakable tendency to a more decided individualism, and now it shrinks from the logical conclusion of its own arguments for fear some individual whom it dislikes will be given an opportunity to demand a plebiscite on his aspirations and what he claims to represent in politics. In other words, the Call has tripped on its prejudices and falls down on its principles. It has been preaching independence of party, and after insisting upon hobbling party action proposes to hobble the individual. It advocates a plan that would enable Democratic voters to assist in nominating an unpopular Republican candidate while preventing Republicans from protecting their party from outside interference and expressing their preference for individual Republican candidates. Moreover, it overlooks the vital fact that the initiative and referendum is a necessary corollary of the direct primary system of nominating candidates.

Absenteeism at Sacramento.

When the roll of the Assembly was called Saturday morning less than twenty members were present and thirty-nine leaves of absence were reported. It would be interesting to know what percentage of the army of attachés reported for duty. It is complained that a session of sixty days allows too little time for the transaction of the growing volume of legislative business, but the junketing and absenteeism are not evidences that the complaint is well founded. Such strenuous work as investigating Assemblyman Smythe for what he was reported to have said about the alleged booze fest after the Burke funeral is not only a waste of time but makes the Assembly ridiculous. If it were desired to vindicate the Assembly from unjust aspersions, the object was not attained by summarily depriving Livernash (who deserves no sympathy) of the privileges of the floor and calling Smythe to a farcical account, but an honest investigation as to what took place on the special train that brought the Assemblymen who attended the funeral of Hon. John J. Burke back from Oakland. The correspondents of the Examiner and Call gave the same account of the drinking on the train that Livernash did, but no official attention was paid to their charges. Livernash was kicked off the floor for publishing a scandalous lie and a legislative inquiry was made to ascertain if Assemblyman Smythe really wrote the charges printed over his name in the Colusa Sun. No effort was made to prove that the charges were unfounded. This sort of hocus pocus deceives nobody and puts the Assembly in a small light that is not improved by a roll call showing only a corporal's guard present. The Assembly would cut a better figure if it would show more diligence and a more genuine regard for public opinion.

The bill providing for the recovery of attorney's fees by the winning party in a law suit, as a part of the costs, in addition to such costs as have been heretofore allowed by the law or in the discretion of the court, strikes us as a good one. It was introduced by Assemblyman Grove L. Johnson at the instance of the Bar Association, and embodies a sound principle. It is only just that a litigant who is compelled to appeal to the courts to maintain his rights or recover his due should be reimbursed for the expense put upon him. Without touching this phase of the proposition, the Sacramento Bee opposes the bill on the ground that it would encourage litigation. In our opinion the effect would be precisely the reverse. Make men aware that if they institute or compel an unnecessary or unjust law suit they are liable for the fees of opposing counsel as well as the court costs and they will not be so ready to engage in litigation. Besides, there is not much force in an argument against correcting a palpable injustice to assume that the correction will produce other evils.

What has happened at the church of the Holy Apostles in Paris illustrates how the new law of religious associations is intended to work in France by its authors. A schismatic congregation has been organized and licensed to worship in a church dedicated to Roman Catholic rites. This congregation styles itself the French Apostolic Catholic Church. It accepts the creed and ritual of the church of Rome, but rejects the ecclesiastical authority of the Vatican and its prelacy. It is no more a Catholic congregation, as the term is understood, than is a congregation of the Church of England. Indeed, its attitude is one of antagonism to the Roman See, but so long as it calls itself Catholic and celebrates with the rites peculiar to the Catholic church the French government pretends to see in it a Catholic congregation in the true sense. This probably the forerunner of other schismatic organizations styling themselves Catholic.

SPENCER ON THE JAPANESE.

To your remaining question respecting intermarriage of foreigners and Japanese, which you say is "now very much agitated among our scholars and politicians," and which you say is "one of the most difficult problems," my reply is that, as rationally answered, there is no difficulty at all. It should be positively forbidden. It is not at root a question of social philosophy. It is at root a question of biology. There is an abundant proof, alike furnished by the intermarriage of human races and by the interbreeding of animals, that when the varieties mingled diverge beyond a certain slight degree, the result is inevitably a bad one in the long run. I have myself been in the habit of looking at the evidence bearing on this matter for many years past, and my conviction is based on numerous facts derived from numerous sources. This conviction I have within the last half hour verified, for I happen to be staying in the country with a gentleman who is well known and has had experience respecting the interbreeding of cattle; and he has just, on inquiry, fully confirmed my belief that when, say of the different varieties of sheep, there is an interbreeding of those which are widely unlike, the result, especially in the second generation, is a bad one, there arises an incalculable mixture of traits, and what may be called a chaotic constitution. And the same thing happens among human beings, the Eurasians in India, the half-breeds in America, show this. The psychological basis of this experience appears to be that any one variety or creature in course of many generations acquires a certain constitutional adaptation to its particular form of life, and every other variety similarly acquires its own special adaption. The consequence is that, if you mix the constitutions of two widely divergent varieties which have divergent modes of life, you get a constitution which is adapted to the mode of life of neither, a constitution which will not work properly, because it is not fitted for any set of conditions whatever. By all means, therefore, peremptorily interdict marriages of Japanese with foreigners.

I have for the reasons indicated approved of the regulations which have been established in America for restraining the Chinese immigration, and had I the power, I would restrict them to the smallest possible amount, my reasons for this decision being that one of two things must happen: If the Chinese are allowed to settle extensively in America, they must either, if they remain unmixed, form a subject race standing in position, if not of slaves, yet of a class approaching to slaves, or if they mix they must form a bad hybrid. In either case, supposing the immigration to be large, immense social mischief must arise, and eventually social disorganization. The same thing will happen if there should be a considerable mixture of European or American races with the Japanese.—Herbert Spencer.

NINE DAYS MORE IN THE TRIBUNE'S GREAT CONTEST

Now Is the Time for All to Redouble Their Energies and Pile Up Votes for the Prizes:

Only nine days more remain in which to obtain enough votes to be declared the winner. Don't despair now, but redouble every energy, have your friends do the same and work the hardest during the remaining days, in an effort to win the prize.

Evidently some good work was done over Sunday, as the standings of several of the contestants were materially bettered.

It is necessary to put in all the time that can possibly be spared during the next few days in getting votes and subscriptions, as the time is getting shorter and subscriptions scarcer.

One of the contestants in the Oakland letter carriers' race reached high-water mark yesterday by having exactly 100,000 votes. The scores in several of the other races will undoubtedly reach the same figures from the way some of the candidates are working early and late in an effort to win one of the handsome prizes offered by THE TRIBUNE.

Special effort is being made by all the candidates during the special offer of 5000 votes on new subscribers for the first and 100 voter on new subscriptions of one month.

During this next week, the great final effort must be made to secure the extra ballots, as after Saturday, February 23 only the regular schedule of votes will be on all subscriptions.

Only nine days more remain to work for the prizes, and in that time a great amount of work will have to be done. Your opponents may have more votes than you think and if you think you have enough to win it wouldn't be wise to stop work, for probably a few thousand votes is what you need to win.

Go on the idea that you haven't half enough, then get right down to an earnest campaign and secure the other half.

Scores of subscriptions are being turned into the office every day by the various contestants and their friends, and as the time is getting shorter, an anxiousness prevails which only inspires each one to exert every effort to secure all the votes and coupons that can be gotten.

If you do not make the most of this opportunity to win a valuable as well as handsome and useful prize, it is an opportunity lost which may not be given again soon, so if you only need a few thousand votes more to win, get them within the next few days.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF RACE TRACKS EAST AND WEST

PICKED UP AT WILLIAMS PARK

By LEE DEMIER.

Misty's Pride, the Oregon Express, with Sandy in the boat brought the money home in handy fashion to the "gangs element."

Frank Skinner, the official caller for the form chart, put in an appearance at the track yesterday. Mr. Skinner has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with a severe attack of the "grip."

Trainer Tom Cook returned from the Baldwin Ranch yesterday.

Misty's Pride now runs in the colors of B. H. Kerby. The horse is in charge of Trainer W. L. Stanfield.

E. J. Ramsey bought Seven Bells from C. Helfer. The colt is by Fairday, the sire of Volodat.

Garner heads the jockeys' list at New Orleans, with Honnery second and Nicl third.

Another record was broken at City Park Saturday when Goldie won the handicap at a mile and a sixteenth in 1:44 4/5, clipping a fifth of a second off Glassful's Washington Park mark.

Trainer Jane Wayland, whose colors were seen when Tartan and J. F. Donohue went to the post in the Family Club Handicap, is one of the best judges in the racing business. He is also one of the shrewdest judges of horses in this country.

Tony Faust and Jack Atkins are pointed for the Tennessee Derby.

The firm of Burlow & O'Neill has won $23,000 in purses at New Orleans and Big Ed Corrigan stands second on the list with $12,000 to his credit. Sam Duggett, who was mainly responsible for the development of Walter Miller, has announced his retirement from the turf. He will engage in the dry goods business in Denver with his brother.

Of the thirty-six races decided during the week, thirteen were won by Williams at Williams Park.

In winning the American Turf Association Handicap at City Park Saturday, Mamie Atzel clapped three seconds off the three-mile record. Her time was 3:19. She carried 105 pounds and followed Gay Minister's lead for the first half mile, when Atzel took the front. When Dutton, despite her 1:3 pounds, was the favorite, Cashier beat her for second.

The setting price of $1000 was lifted from $500 to $1000 by H. B. Schaefer. The horse did not change stalls.

GAEIC CHAMPIONS ARE EASY FOR CLEVER HORNETS

By the score of 2 to 6, the Hornets yesterday trounced the Parnells, who have been recognized as the champions of the Gaelic game.

The other game is entirely different. In every respect, however, and many were of the opinion that the Parnells would be unable to do anything with the Hornets.

The team went in to work with a will, however, and made a creditable showing against such formidable opponents. The game was replete with fast and snappy plays, with McKeown, Elliott, Allen, and Carter were the stars.

Judgments from the showing made by the visitors yesterday will be one of the contentions in the race for the cup.

ROVERS ARE VICTORIOUS.

The Scotia team made its first and last appearance in the cup ties of the California Football Association yesterday, when it met the Alton Rivers at Alameda and suffered defeat by a score of 5 to 2.

Several prominent players who were expected to appear for the Scotia team did not make the play, and the players who did turn out, although they showed that they were experts at the game, were in no condition to travel the route with the team, and the game was safe for the Oakland team after fifteen minutes' play.

The teams were:

Rovers—Goal: Marra, backs: McCubbin and Woodend; halfbacks: McKleran, Brown and McElroy; ends: McCleod, Anderson, McCallum, Peacock and Milne; Scottas—Goal: Buchanan; backs: T. Disher and McDonald; halfbacks: Eddie Livingston and O'Farrell; ends: R. Disher, Briggs, Reid, Bain and Armer.

HARD AND FAST FIGHTS AT WEST OAKLAND CLUB

Genial Tommy Simpson has arranged what has ever appearance of being a great card for the West Oakland club for tomorrow night. Tommy is a hard worker and at all times, is figuring on improvements and good cards for the popular organization.

The list of six events arranged will open with a battle between Frankie Johnson and Young Kelly. Jack Bullock and Roger will have the hand in the second event. Andie Duffman, the red-toppped fighter, Willie Hogan, are slated to biff and bang.

JOHN L. IS FEELING LIKE A BANTAM

John L. Sullivan, who is doing a theatrical stunt in Philadelphia, declares that while he is a trifle heavy he still feels strong enough to deliver a knockout blow. John's hair has turned white, but he says that it means nothing at all. "They say I am an old man," remarked the former champion the other day. "Why, President Roosevelt is only twelve days older than I am and who ever said that as an old man? I may be a little heavier than the President, but I am just as lively as he is and feel just as young as he does. My neck today measures 21 inches. That's what it measured twelve years ago. My arms are as strong as they ever were, my eyes are in perfect condition, and I can dance an Irish reel with the best of them. I don't deny that my stomach protrudes more than Mr. Roosevelt's, but I can get him off if I want to work him." Sullivan, who is 46 years old, recently wrote a letter to Dr. Osler, agreeing to drive his fist through the panel of a door one and a half inches thick with enough force to knock the door down, providing the latter stood close on the other side. But the learned professor, for some reason, has not as yet honored Sullivan with a reply.

COHAN'S PLAY AT MACDONOUGH

Clever Musical Entertainment Will Be Seen Here This Evening.

One of the most notable theatrical entertainments booked for the present season in this city is George M. Cohan's fascinating music play, "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," which plays at the Macdonough tonight and all this week, with Corinne as the star, supported by a noteworthy company. Under the direction of King and Bishop, who has produced unusual success since his first production over a year ago, its run of twenty weeks in New York and thirty weeks in Chicago having proved immensely popular to the critics. Miss Williams was married a few months ago, and severed her connection with the court of Yolo. The contention of the county is that her claim was illegitimate, and that she was not authorized to transcribe the testimony by the court or county clerk, although the board of supervisors approved the claim.

The following are the scores made by the Gun Club at Shell Mountain Park Saturday:

J. W. Gilliam 42, W. B. McAll 41, H. L. Gilliam 40, W. B. McAll 39, W. B. Parker 26, C. C. DeVoe 40, J. M. Montgomery 39, E. S. Brown 37, G. M. Hunt 37, T. H. Cook 37, C. E. Mason 37, R. W. Phelps 36, W. B. Barman 36, C. H. Hough 36, S. E. Montgomery 37, G. Howson 33.

"To Keep Well"

The whole year through," writes J. A. Bartlett of Rural Route 1, Gilroy, Calif. "Keep well, and you will be happy."

"Tulip" plays the part of Mary, the daughter of the Captain household in New Rochelle. "Tulip" is just forty minutes from Broadway by rail, and this circumstance gives the piece its title. Raving about Mary in the development of the play, the author says: "I have doubtless, in a mercenary, mother, a valiant stockholder, many minor characters, and Kid Burns, a young Broadway boy of strong arm and noble heart, who expresses a great deal of practical philosophy in more important situations. The role opposite to that played by Corinne is acted by Scott Welsh, who has made a great individual success in it.

Klaw & Erlanger have given the place to us, and we are grateful for the use of the exterior of the Captain's mansion in New Rochelle in the morning, the drawing-room in the evening, and the railroad station the next morning."

"This is not so entirely different from anything that has previously been seen here in the way of light entertainment that it is sure to attract comment. While it possesses many of the original characteristics of the author, it is replete with wit, which is the chief work that Mr. Cohan has done and a wide departure from "Little Johnny Jones," "The Governor's Son," and other work of his pen."

AGED HERMIT DISAPPEARS

John Delaney, Who Leaves Mt. Eden Infirmary, Is Missing.

MT. EDEN, Feb. 18.—John Delaney, better known as "Old John, the Hermit," has left the County Infirmary, where he has been staying since last summer. He left with the intention of passing the remainder of his days in his old man's hut by the roadside.

This old man, who claims he is 92 years of age, has lived the past 25 years in a dingy brush house by the road side. During all these years he has been fed and clothed by the neighboring farmers. One day last July he was found in his hut in a feeble and helpless condition. He protested bitterly against being removed to the Infirmary. His only desire was to be left alone to die in his brush house. He was finally removed to the hospital. A few days ago he was again allowed with a longing to return to the Infirmary. The old man's strength had been gained strength.

For a few days ago he was again allowed with a longing to return to the Infirmary. The old man's strength had been gained strength.

He wandered back to his little hut. Upon reaching the place he was beaten to a pulp to find his home reduced to ashes.

Tired from his trip he laid down among the ruins and passed the night. He disappeared again the next day.

Mrs. Woenne and daughter Frieda, of San Francisco, are passing a few days at the home of William Woenne. They came from San Francisco to pass the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Registered Trade Mark

Look for the Red Oval Sign

Oakland, California, February 18, 1907.

After this date we POSITIVELY will not list property for Sale, except at the owner's own price, and on the regular commission basis as adopted by the local Real Estate Exchange, which is 5 per cent on the first $2000, and 1-2% on the balance of selling price.

We believe in fair play, and we do not think it fair for owners to expect us to sell their property and get our commission ABOVE their REGULAR PRICE, neither do we think it is right for Brokers to take property for sale at the owner's NET PRICE and add a LARGE PROFIT as commission for themselves before offering it for sale.

We are satisfied to do business on a small profit basis. This firm stand is taken to avert dissensions between owner and broker, and further protect prospective buyers.

We take this means of letting our friends and the Public know exactly how we stand on the matter.

Respectfully,

M. T. MINNEY CO.

HIGHER WAGE ACCEPTED;
DOCK STRIKE IS AVERTED
Longshoremen Will Receive Advance of 20 Per Cent--Both Sides Are Satisfied
With the Settlement.

After brief deliberation, the Longshoremen's Union at its meeting at German Hall yesterday decided to accept the offer of a twenty per cent increase made by the Lumbermen's Association and a strike which threatened the Oakland and Alameda lumber interests has been averted.

Both the Longshoremen's Union and Lumbermen's Association agreed well pleased at the result and a feeling of complete amity exists in all quarters.

NEW WAGE SCALE.

The new scale of wages for the longshoremen goes into effect today. The yardmen are to receive $3.50 a day, while the men on the rollers are to get $4 per day. The previous scale was $3 a day for yardmen while the men on the rollers were paid $3.45.

The peaceful solution of the differences between the union and the association is well received in commercial and industrial circles in Oakland and Alameda county.

As printed exclusively in last Friday's Tribune, the longshoremen presented a formal demand for $4.50 per day wage scale. The Lumbermen's Association would not listen to this demand as it meant in the instance of the longshoremen a salary increase of 20 per cent. Lumbermen stood aghast at this demand and at a meeting at their headquarters, denounced the demand as "ridiculous," then took up the demand and presented a counter-proposition.

We are willing to concede that conditions have materially changed since the earthquake of April 18 last and for that reason we conceded the twenty per cent increase to the longshoremen. The lumbermen want a value received for the money expended. We do not want our employees to suffer any hardships, and we think that as the wages are now adjusted there will be no further dispute."

EMPLOYERS PLEASED.

One member of the union declared that the men were well satisfied with the twenty per cent increase and looked for further demands on the part of the union.

"Of course," he declared, "we would rather have had the scale arranged as demanded by us, but we are not dissatisfied with the concession we received.

All the men are satisfied and there will be no strike movement for some time to come."

Members of the Lumbermen's association also expressed satisfaction with the conditions of affairs this morning.

ADVISED COMPROMISE.

The members of the executive board

ROUTINE WORK OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The Complete Returns of the Fruitvale
Election Are Officially Canvassed.

At the regular session of the board of supervisors held this morning all the members of the board responded to roll call, President Mitchell in the chair.

Dr. George H. Derrick asked permission to connect a six-inch sewer, draining lots 8 and 9, of the Foothill lands, adjoining the county infirmary on the north and west, with the county infirmary sewer. Referred to the infirmary committee and Dr. Clark, and the county surveyor. The district attorney was also invited to file an opinion on the question of the rights of the board to make the concession for.

ALLENDALE AVENUE IMPROVEMENT.

W. J. Moore and forty-five other residents of Allendale avenue and Fruitvale petitioned the board to grade and macadamize the said avenue from High street to the Redwood road. Referred to Supervisor Horner with power to act.

FRUITVALE INCORPORATION ELECTION.

A canvass of the Fruitvale incorporation election was made, with the following result:

President	For	Against
1.	39	120
2.	18	141
3.	100	101
4.	143	67
5.	82	102
6.	58	160
Totals	440	701

ELECTION PAY.

Officers employed at the incorporation election were allowed compensation of $2 each for their services.

WESTERN PACIFIC.

A resolution was adopted unanimously granting the Western Railroad Company a easement and right of way through land deeded to the county in 1858 by Charles Duerr and wife and embracing 10,000 square feet, the grantees being held responsible for any damages to a reservoir situated on the right of way. The consideration named for the easement is $25.

NEW SUBURBAN TRACTS.

Maps of Gorill Glen and Derby estate tracts, both located in Brooklyn township, were filed by the Perkins, Bromley and the Derby Estate Companies, respectively. The Board declined, however, to accept the streets laid down in these subdivisions in accordance with the usual custom in such cases.

On motion of Supervisor Rowe the bill was adopted as read.

NEW APPOINTEES.

By unanimous vote M. F. Silva was appointed as a copyist to copy old records in the office of the County Recorder, to serve at the pleasure of the Board, at a salary of $100 per month. Silva takes the place hitherto held by J. G. Madison.

By a similar vote, William Sopke was appointed gardener for a period of three months to fill the vacancy created by the death of Gardner Kelly.

The Board then adjourned.
